The Center of Excellence for
Assistive Technology and Disability Care Project
Presents

Improving the Quality of Life for Visually Impaired Seniors

Wednesday, June 29, 2011

5:00pm – 9:00pm

(Dinner will be provided.)

Casino at Lakemont Park
300 Lakemont Park Boulevard
Altoona, PA

This program is provided at no cost.

CME Credit and CEU's will be available.

This educational program is designed to advance the knowledge and skills of physicians and other health care professionals in managing senior patients experiencing the loss of vision. The training will provide information to assist providers in responding to the health care needs, as well as, improve the quality of life for the visually impaired senior citizens of the Commonwealth.

Experiential training will also occur as attendees are introduced to the variety of assistive devices available to aid visually impaired seniors. There will also be a hands-on demonstration of the available tools to assist seniors and improve their quality of life.

Information will be provided to link attendees with existing community, local and state organizations for the visually impaired.

Presenters:

Marianne Boltz, OD, Assistant Professor, Department of Ophthalmology,
Penn State University, College of Medicine

Shanin Gross, DO, Assistant Professor, Department of Family & Community Medicine,
